AGRICULTURAL REPORT.

THE CONDITION OF CROPS FOR THE MONTH OF MAY.

A Decline in the Average of Wheat Compared With Other Years-Average by States - The Season Advanced in All Parts of the Country-Washington,

WASHINGTON, May 11 .- The report of the department of agriculture for May relates spring plowing, and proportion of the proposed cotton area already plunted. It indicates a decime ln the condition of wheat of two points since April 1. The general average for the whole country being 86 against 95 at the same date in 1836, 70 in 1885, and 94 in 1884.

The changes in condition have not been uniform throughout the winter whent region, some states showing an increase, the majority a slight decline and a few a heavy falling off. The states of the middle Atlantic coast from Pennsylvania to North Carolina show some improvement, seasonabie weather having aided the piant in recovering more than was expected from the injury done by the trying season during February and March. In New York and New Jersey the amount of winter killing was not fully known on April 1, and this with cold, unfavorable weather during the month has caused a serious reduction in condition.

Drought has reduced the average some-what in the eastern gulf states, and has wrought very serious damage in Texas and Arkansas lowering condition during the month nineteen and ten points respectively. Favorable temperature and seasonable rains have improved the prospect in Tenneseee, West Virginia and Kentucky, condition being considerably higher in these states than it has averaged in many for the past five years. The most serious reduction of the month is in Ohio, where there is a falling off of eight points since the 1st of April, due to the continuing evil effects of the aiternate freezing and thawing noted in the last report, and to the cold dry weather during the greater part of April, which gave the injured plant little chance for recuperation. A favorable season after April 1 might have, in a great measure, repaired the injury done up to that time, but the continued unfavorable conditions have wrought still further damage and a small crop is now inevitable. Michigan and Indiana show a slight decine, while in Illinois and Missouri there is a gain of one point. Uufnvorable weather in Kansas and California has caused a slight falling off, while in Oregon the prospect has advanced, it being the only state in which coudition reaches one hundred.

The averages of condition by states are: New York, 66; Pennsylvania, 72; Maryland, 84; Virginia, 80; North Carolina, 90; Texas, 60; Arkansas, 93; Tennessee, 96; West Virginia, 89; Kentucky, 95; Kentucky, 71; Michigan, 90; Indiana, 87; Illinois, 93; Missouri, 96; Kansas, 81; California, 89; Oregon, 101.

Rye has suffered from the same conditions which have injuriously affected wheat, but on account of its hardier nature, the general being 87.8 against 96.7 in May, 1886, and 82 in 1885.

The season has been more generally advanced in all parts of the country than usual, spring plowing being seriously behind only on the Atlantic coast south to Pennsylvania, and on the Pacific slope. In these sections it has been delayed by cold and excessive moisture. Elsewhere the work is ahead of an average year, the season, especially during April, having been generally favorable with temperature above the normal, and rainfall at minimum. The proportion already done on May 1 is estimated at 80 per cent, of the whole, while the amount usually completed at that date is about 76 per cent.

The portion of cotton already planted amounts to more than four-fifths of the proposed area and is slightly greater than at the same date in any of the preceding years, but it is a little less than the proportion returned by the correspondents as the average planting at that date. The proportions by states are: North Carolina, 70; South Carolina, 80; Georgia, 85; Alabama, 88; Missis-sippi, 84; Louisiana, 88; Texas, 82; Arkansa, 80; Tennessee, 80. There is some complaint of slow germination and a poor stand on secount of drouth at time of planting in some sections, but with favorable weather, replanting is rapidly filling all gaps.

Cut Hils Throat With a Shoe-Knife. Louisville, Ky., May 11.—Henry Weis becker, a shoemaker, living, with an only daughter at 840 East, Green street, committed suicide yesterday morning by cutting his throat from ear to ear with a small shoe-knife. 'The exact time' the deed was committed will never be known, as Weisbecker was supposed to have left his home about 5 o'clock in the morning and was not known to be on the place until the body was found in the cellar last night. When discovered, the body was lying over a lot of bricks, with his face buried in a pile of dirt. The jugular vein, wiudpipe and the main arterie had been cleanly severed, while his neck had been broken in falling. .The coroner returned a verdict that Weisbecker's death had been caused by knife wounds received at his own hands while in a, fit of melancholia. The man was known to be subject to such attacks. Eight years ago his wife dled, and ever since he has brooded over the loss to such an extent that his mind had become

THE DEAF MUTE MURDERER.

Walter Blagham Not in Arkansas, But said to Be Confined.

LITTLE ROCK; Ark., May 11.—The rumor that Walter Bingham, the deaf mute who murdered Miss Lizzie Tulkington, at Raleigh, N. C., last December, was hiding in the deaf mute institute here turns out to be unfounded. It is a matter of fact, however, that Professor Frances D. Clark, principal of the asylum, is well acquainted with Bingham, and that Bingham has also several old classmates who are teaching or otherwise employed aboutto the condition of winter grain progress of the institute. Professor Clark taught for a number of years at an institute in New York city, where Bingham was a pupil, and thus the professor numbers him among his former students:

The murder excited great interest here from this fact, and the institute people believed Bingham would make his way here. This, however, he did not do, and ail the clews pointing to this state have been proven worthless. The rumor of his capture at Texarknna last week is likewise untrue. It is claimed that his friends are keeping him in a private asylum in New York until the feeling against him dies out, when he will be given up to the law and tried for murder, his defense being insanity.

Doubtful Insurance Companies. MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 11 .- The Evening Journal prints the official report of E. B. Walker, examiner of Insurance companies of this state, to Commissioner Shandrew. The report will, no doubt, create some uneasiness in certain quarters when read. The methods of business followed by several companies are severely criticised. Among such companies are the American Life, St. Paul; Mntual Benevolent association, Union Endowment, St. Paul, and Minnesota Mutual Benefit, of Minneapolis. The examiner recommends that some of these concerns had better change their plans or wind up their affairs, as they are not able to pay the full amount of their policies, and would have to resort to questionable methods of compromising with their policy holders, so as not to have to pay the full amount of policies.

DETROIT'S MISFORTUNE.

How Noar She Came to Possessing "Christ Before Pilate."

NEW YORK, May 11 .- Ex-Governor Alger, of Michigan, while in Paris last summer, saw Munkaczy's painting, "Christ Before Pilate," and on its arrival in New York be offered Mankaczy's ageut, Sedelmeyer, $60,-000 for it. The offer was refused. Mr. Alger and Mr. Sedelmeyer afterward met in Detroit and Mr. Alger offered $90,000, which was accepted. A contract for the delivery of the picture was drawn up and signed, and Governor Alger paid $9,500 to bind the bargain. The picture was to have been forwarded to him on his return from a trip to California and Moxico.

Governor Alger has a fondness for Munkaczy's paintings, and had already bought "Kittens" at a cost of $8,000 by the same artist. While on his way to California he received a telegram from Mr. Sedelmeyer stating that the painting had been sold, without his (Sedeimeyer's) knowledge, to Wannamaker, of Philadelphia, for $100, 000, and he offered the governor $3,000 for the release. This was declined. Mr. Alger finally let Sedelmeyer off on the payment of $8,000, the price he had paid for "Kittens," and Detroit lost "Christ Before Pilate," which Governor Alger proposed to put in the new art gallery as a gift to the people of that city. It is stated that Governor Aiger has now offered $45,000 for Munkaczy's "Last Days of Mozart," but that it is held at

NO VOLCANOES IN ARIZONA.

Forest Fires Were the Only Ones General Forsyth's Explores Found.

BENSON, Ariz., May 11.-All other reports to the contrary notwithstanding, no volcanic eruptions have occurred in southern Arizona. On the 3d lnst., simultaneously with the severe earthquake shocks experienced here, great clouds of smoke appeared over the peaks of the Whetstone mountains, south of this point, and at night the horizon was brilliantly illuminated by what was supposed to be volcanic fires, but the pnenomenon continued during several days following the earthquake, and on the 5th inst. an expioring party, under the leadership of Gen. Forsyth, commanding Fort Huachuaca. started to the Whetstone mountains, for the purpose of investigating the seismic eruptions.

They returned on the 7th, and reported that there was no volcanic eruption, though signs of unheavel and mountain slides from Thursday's earthquake were abundantly visible, and that the brilliant illumination of the sky and clouds of smoke, were caused by forest fires, which they had traced to the carelessness of some Mexican campers, who had camped on the mountain Monday night. This report effectually explodes the volcano sensation among the people of Benson. Another severe shock of earthquake was experienced here at 1:14 yesterday afternoou. No damage was done, but it created great consternation among the people.

"Dixle Now and Dixle Then."

NEW YORK, May 11.-Maj. Charles H. Smith, of Georgia, whose quaint writing under the sobriquet of "Bili Arp" have been widely copied in newspapers, especially of the south and west, amused an audience at Chickering hali last night for an hour and a half with a lecture on "Dixie Now and Dixie Then." He drew pictures of the old Southern aristocracy as modified by the war and filled in his sketch with odd fancies of comment and description. He noted the improvement of the southern masses as a compensation for the decadence of the aristocracy. He observed that under the pressure of the new order the southern girls are getting better education, while the southern boys are going to work instead of college, He calculated that the estimated loss to the south by the manumission of the slaves was largely fictitious, and that in many cases the loss of the slaves was a profit to the master. One of his sayings was: "My mother was from Charleston and my father from Massachusetts. When I was a child I used to get mad and fight ail by myseif. Mother said it was only Massachusetts fighting South Caro-

Taken to a Tree and Hanged.

NEW ORLEANS, May 11.-West Chrrolf Parish, in which a mob burned the store of Simon Witkowski and drove him from the parish, a few months ago, has again become the scene of mob violence. Last Thursday a mob at Floyd seized upon Richard Goodwin and Grace Blanton, both colored, and hanged them to a tree for robbing the store of M. Bain. It is said that while mob violence is. depreciated by the people, the action of this particular mob is condemned because, as a local correspondent naively says, there is no doubt of the guilt of the accused persons, the woman having confessed and the goods having been found in the possession of the victims. It is not stated that they were confirmed criminals or that the people had become exasperated at their continued depredations. They simply robbed a store and were hanged.

Prospect of Another Kentucky War. CATLETTSBURG, Ky., May 11.—Another double Kentucky tragedy. Both armed themselves, and last evening met on the road near town, and at once opened fire on each other. Tripp was instantly killed. Caldwell lived until this morning. It is believed that their sons will continue the feud.

EIGHTY-SEVEN counties in Texas are said to have neither preachers nor churches. If this is true, the different congregations should give a little more attention to their home missions.

Some of the citizens of Lexington are making fools of themselves by signing a petition praying the Governor to pardon Corneilison. There ought to be a let-up in the pardon business, and in remitting fines.

The public will now breath easier. But the question arises: "Who are "its friends?"-we mean the Republican's friends. Don't all answer at once. One at a time will do.

SPRAKER CARLISLE'S name is frequently heard of late in connection with the Presidency, and there is undoubtedly an attempt to boom him for the place. With Cleveland ont of the way, Carlisle's chances for the nomination are much better than those of any one else. Senator Blackburn thinks Carlisle and Hili tieths at $1. Any information can be would make a strong ticket.

OUR able contemporary, the Republican, still puts in its little say on the State finances. The blunderer who does the Republican's figuring is the same infive items showing the work of the State Board of Equalization on the assessment of this county. He made a big blow claiming that the Board had raised million dollars, when in fact the assessment had been reduced over $225,000. Moreover he has never corrected his mistake.

ANENT the gas controversy, the Republican remarks:

The argument of our neighbor amounts to just this: The few should oppress the many, and, lif there's anything to be had "cheap" at the expense of others, the few should be the ones to have lt. The majority shouldn't have anything cheap, not even gas. Turn

LOVE'S HARMONY.

Slow glide the hours. All pleasure is but pain, Dim is the aunlight on the upland hill, And cold the fiercest glow of summer's prime Until we meet again.

Speak, then, dear heart, speak but one gentla And bid me hasten to thy side at last, That so the future, lost in vague, sweet hope, Blot out the troublous past.

Clear came a voice from ont the silent wood-Deep in my soul its perfect harmony Sank like the echo of an ancient chime, Hallow'd to memory.

Nearer it came—and then as in a dream My love and I once more together stand Where troublons past and smiling future meet

Forever hand in hand.

While from the upland hill a gleam of light
Breaks thro' the dusky gloom of dreary night,
And mystic murmurs, trembling soft above, Low mingle in the new born song of love.

A FORTUNATE JOURNALIST.

Trying to Escape the Uncivilised Climate of the United States—To Cuba.

One of the gentlemen of the editorial fraternity who inherited a fortune, who is in the "social seven," and has met the Prince of Wales, is Allen Thorndyke Rice, the editor of The North American Review. He has a good time rushing all over this country, going to Cuba to escape the dreadful winter of America, and going to England to get rid of the horrid summers of the latitude of New York. I sometimes think a rich poor man. who happens to be born an American citizen. has a hard time of it trying to escape the uncivilized climate of the United States. May, June and October appear to be the only tolerable months in the calendar for your fashionabie gentieman who has a fortune at his disposal.

I saw Mr. Rice in Washington a few days since. He is a middle aged, medium sized gentleman, with dark hair and eyes, a rather thin voice, and quick in his speech and motion. He reminds me of Henry Gillig, of the American Exchange, in London, who is always in a rushing hurry. Gillig only him time to say: "How'd ye do! I'm off. Just got in on a Cunarderi Going down to Fortress Monroe to stop over Sunday, Expect to start for San Francisco next week. Have some matters to look after on the Pacific ceast. Shail be in Chicago over night." That is Gillig. As they say of Mr. Totts in "Dombey and Son:" "Shakey, shivery, how are you?" Some might say, "Whirliging Gilling, whither away?" Thorndyke Rice was just in from Cuba when I met him.

"Go down to Cuba for an entire change of mlnd," said he. "For a man with all sorts of bothers and things, the best thing he can do is to go to Cuba for ten days. No, I don't speak Spanish, but I do speak French and German, and I got along with a little Latin. Well, yes, they still have a captain general in Cuba, who lives in considerable style. There was a day, I believe, when they had to pass a law prohibiting the paving of the court yard of the paiace with silver. You should see a sugar plantation by all means when you go to Cuba, and you will be intensely lucky, you know, if you voyage along the east coast. The scenery is very fine. I had to hurry home to look after a little business that is hanging fire. They asked mo to stay longer, but I said 'No, thanks very much!' "-Fuller Walker in Kansas City Journal.

Mysterious Death on the Bristol.

FALL RIVER, Mass., May 11.-Augustus E. Soper, a passenger on the steamer Bristol, from New York, died this morning between Newport and this city. He was second mate of a schooner which recently arrived in New York, and occupied a stateroom in company with Capt. Mckinnon, who claimed to be captain of the same schooner. The latter's story was that they were on their way to Boston, where Soper had friends; that Soper was taken sick with something during the night; that he (McKinnon) assisted hlm and then went back to the upper berth and went to sleep, and upon arriving in this city found Soper dead in the lower berth. McKinnon left for Boston saying he would notify Soper's friends, but up to a late hour nothing has been heard from them. An examination of Soper's body developed no signs of foul play.

Seventy-five men are at work to-day upon the washout, and navigation will probably resume in ten days.

FASHIONS FOR THE DEAD.

How the Customs of Dressing for the Grave Have Been Changed.

There have been within the last few years many marked changes in the conduct and in the accessories of funerals. The changes have been brought by influences not clearly definable. One old lady who died not long ago lay in her narrow casket robed in a pligrim suit of brown broadcloth, the cape covering her shoulders and shrunken form, and a girdle holding the gathers about the waist. A small, close, little feit bonnet was worn. and the infusion of some chemical gave the face a most iifelike appearance. A favorite funeral gown is the modified Greek dress, such as Mary Anderson, Miss Eastlake and Ellen Terry have been seen in. These outfits are made without trimming, possibly a girdie or braided cape being used as a finish. The fabric used is some fine flannel or worsted cioth of a vollowish white color.

Not two years ago the wife of a rich young vest sider was dressed in a fac-similie costume of that worn by Viola Alien in "Virginius," Her sickness had been very brief, and when "the final summons" came "the body retained its lovely round contour. In the coffin the arms and neck were bare, the yellow hair was arranged in loose ringlets about the face, and a necklace of pearl beads encircied the throat.

The winding sheet has been revived, and if the rumor one gives ear to can be credited some very prominent people will "wrap the drapery of their couch about them" when they go hence. The quotation is hardly pertinent, for in place of the coid, white winding sheet of the "sailor boy," a piald of white billiard cloth, made after the style of Sir John Moore's sable robe, is considered the thing. So far the winding sheet has been used in Chicago at the ;bier of young men, and then the funeral services have been conducted with great privacy.

Another innovation at funerals is the evening or vesper burial. Services are held at the residence late in the afternoon, the friends retiro immediately afterward and at nightfall the coffin is placed in the undertaker's carriage and driven to the vault, folloved by a single coupe. This programme is becoming very general in west side circles and is preferred to any other arrangement when the remains are taken out of the city for burial.—Inter Ocean.

The Marriage of Elder E. L. Powell and Miss Lida P. Smoot.

The Pastor of the Christlan Church Weds One of the Fairest of His Fleck. Nature. Smiles Upon the Happy Union.

Miss Lida P. Smoot became the bride of Elder E. L. Powell at half-past 10 o'clock this morning. The amptist cerof the bride, officiated, and spoke the words that made the happy twain one. relative of the groom.

The groom is a Virginian by birth, baving been born in King William chosen work, some years ago, and bas been a zealous and eminently successful laborer in the cance of the church ever since. His first charge in Kentucky was at Hopkinsville. Some three years ago he was called to the Christian Church of this city. He accepted the call, and no in Maysvilie, has ever proved more popular than he, or is more admired and beloved by bis congregation. His earnest and eloquent preaching has been richly rewarded, and has given him a most enviable reputation throughout the State. It is not going too far to say that he, though young in years, bas no superiors and but few equals among the ministers of the Obristian Church in Kentucky.

.The young bride whose fortunes were linked to-day with those of her eloquent pastor by the silken cords of love, is connected with two prominent families of this city and county, being a danghter of the late Henry G. Smoot, and a grand-daughter of the late S. S. Miner. She is admired and loved wherever known for her many graces of mind and heart. She is a member of the Christian Chnrch, has been a a close attendant upon the services, and always takes an active interest therein. Her mother and many of her relatives are also members of the church, and as a result of Mr. Powell's pastorate be was thrown much with the family. He became a frequent visitor at Miss Smoot's home. The friendship of the pastor ripened into the admiration and devotion of the lover, and the marriage engagement followed.

The nuptials this morning have been the main topic of interest among his congregation and in social circles for weeks cordial invitation to bis parishioners. The church was opened at 9 o'clock, and the large andience room was soon filled to overflowing by the many who desired to witness "the happy union of two ance of the bridal party. . Next came Dr. Garrett H. Helton and Mr. Harry C. McDougle, lollowed by Misses Emma and floris Means, all of this city; Mr. John T. Powell, a brother of the groom, of Norfolk, Va., and Miss Jennie Clifton Taylor, of this city, came next and were followed by the groom and bride. The attendants grouped them ielves in a semi-eircle in front of the pulpit, with the happy couple in the center, and standing beneath a floral canopy of handsome design. MThe venerable minister, Eider Rickets, assisted by Eider Oave, officiated, using the simple marriage service of the Ohristian Church.

The wedding gown worn by the bride was marked by its richness and elegant simplicity, the loveliness of the bride being beightened by the artistic arrangement of the drapary. The gown was of white tie. Miss Jennie Clifton Taylor, C. Pecor & Co.

THE WHEREABOUTS OF MANY OF OUR VISITING CITIZENS.

Queen Victoria's Drawing Room and Whe Wore Present-Mr. Manning Greatly Improved in Health-Emperor William's Feebleness-Other Foreign News.

LONDON, May 11 .- The queen's drawing room to-day was the largest beld for years past. Five bundred ladles, mostly English, were presented. The following were the American ladies presented: Mrs. Artbur Post, Miss Morgan, grand-daughter of J. S. Morgan; Mrs. Ezra Warner and Miss Warner, of Chicago; Mrs. Vanwarte and Miss Vanwarte, of New York; Mrs. H. L. Horton, of Brooklyn; Miss Gallup, of Providence; Mrs. Whitewright Stuart and Miss Florence N. Smith, of New York, and Mrs. Van Zollikefer, of Virginia.

Mrs. and Miss Manning, the wife and daughter of the ex-secretary of the treasury, spent last week in Paris with Mrs. Corning, but returned yesterday to England. They report that Mr. Manning's health is greatly improved. They dined with Minister Mc-Lane, and received a large number of Americans at a tea given by Mrs. Corning, which was as crowded with English-speaking peopie as if it had been given in Washington. The following were among the most notable guests: Mrs. Rufus King, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Curtis and Mrs. Miltou Gretchens, all of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain, of Cieveland, and Mrs. Schemerborn, of Paris; Minister McLane and Miss McLane, Mrs. John Lamsou, of Paris; Mr. and Mrs. Hampton Robb, of New York; Miss Walsh, of Albany; Mrs. Robert Thompson, of Troy; Miss Bonnet, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Major, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Wheeier, of Paris; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer, of New York; Mrs. Trevelyan, of England; Mr. and Mrs. Welter Blackman of Paris: Mr. Harry Walter Blackman, of Paris; Mr. Harry Sands, of New York; Mr. Fred. Martin, of Albany; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Tuck and Miss Tuck, of New York; Mme. H. and Mile. Dry, of Paris; Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson, of New York.

Cornelius Vanderbilt has arrived from Berlin with his eldest son, and is stopping at the Hotel Bristol, Paris. He is on his way back to New York, which he only left less than three weeks ago for a little rest and sea air. At the same botel are also Pierrepont Morgan and family, Mr. Goelet and Mrs. Goelet, who spent the winter at Cannes; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lawrence, Mr. Maxweil, Mr. and Mrs. William Astor, Mrs. Sarah Whiting Belmont and her mother, Mrs. Whiting, and the Misses Whiting, Mrs. Griswold Gray and Miss Trick, of Balthnore. In fact the whole house seems to be taken by New Yorkers. Opposite the Bristol, at the Hotei du Rhin, Mr. and Mrs. Erastus Corning, of Albany, are stopping, and also Mrs. August Beiment. The latter, however, is hardly ever seen, as sbe is in deep mourning.

Sounds Famillar.

VIENNA, May 11.-In the reichstrath yesterday Herr Pernerstorder called attention to the management of the Allgemeine's Krankenhaus, the largest hospital in Vienna. He said that statements had been made which appeared to be correct, that patients were given unwholesome and scanty food and sometimes were kept for days without any food; that there was only one bath in the hospital and that the nurses and attendants extorted money from patients and fil-treated those who were unable to pay. The govern-ment promised that an exhaustive inquiry would be made.

London, May 11.-To-day's issue of the Pall Mail Gazette publishes a highly sensational rumor to the effect that the government is baving prepared sixty-two first class cells in Milibank prison for the reception of the Parnellite leaders when the proper time shall arrive. Appearance of a Foul Crime. BINGHAUTON, N. Y., May 11.-The mysterious disappearance of Robert W. Jacobs, a young medical student of Unadeila, causes great alarm. He visited Sidney a few days ago and is supposed to have had from $300 to $300 in his pocket. He was last seen Thursday afternoon in the woods about half a mile from Sidney. On Saturday a blood-stained pocket-book, marked "Robert W. Jacobs," containing papers which have been identified as bis, was found in the woods about two miles from that viliage. It was distinctly marked with blood-stained fingers and contained no money. A hat has been found in the Susquehanna river which his father says belonged to Robert. He was twenty-six years old and was highly esteemed. Foul play is suspected and the river is being dragged for the body. There is no clue to the mystery.

Disgraceful Fights. Briton, Wis, May 1.—James Collins, a drummer who is stopping here, was insulted Saturday night by a local "tough" and Collins gave him a good thrashing. Tom Hayes, a brother of the beaten man, took up the quarrel and abused Bradburn, the pugilist, who is in this city. Sunday morning Bradburn met Tom Hayes and gave him a severe pounding. Last night while Bradburn was reading in the office of the Grand hotel Tom Hayes and several companions attacked him in the office with big stones, and broke the windows, causing a general panic in the hotel. Bradburn, single-banded, fought and defeated the crowd, and gave some of his assailants cracked beads.

Both women had been killed by a blow from an ax or hatchet, the force of the blow cleaving their heads in twain.

It is believed the murderers entered the house and, while searching for the money they knew Mr. McWha to bave received, were surprised by one or both ladies, identifled by them, and to cover up their tracks the would-be robbers killed the women.
